The registration cost is $75/person for quizzers and coaches, and includes a T-shirt and lunch/dinner both days of quizzing.

All prices are in US dollars. Please bring payment with you to the meet and present it when you check-in. Preferred payment method is check, which can be made out to "Pacific Northwest Theological Institute".

Schedule and Overall Meet Plan

Both days of quizzing will be full – approximately 9am-5pm with an hour lunch break. Roughly speaking, Friday will be the preliminary round to determine bracket placements, and Saturday will be the bracket round and finals.

An optional practice round will take place on Friday morning for participants who are new to the CBQ ruleset. The basics are easy to pick up for experienced quizzers from any quiz program! But, for those who want the details to plan out strategy beforehand, please visit the CBQ website at cbqz.org for tips and tricks.

After the registration period ends, a full draw and schedule will be published and sent to all participants.

After dinner each day, there will be organized group activities at CCS. The current plan is to host a talent show one night and organized games the other night, with time afterwards for informal fellowship.
